product description

Design Christoph Matthias 2014

Three aluminium balls, precisely adjustable. The „quieter“ brother of „Archie B.“. Three light colours, cold white, neutral white and warm white. Combined, they produce a clear white light.

If this falls on an object, shadows in different colour nuances are created.

The heaviness of the spheres is combined with the floating lightness of the play of shadows.

Dimensions: balls ø 50 mm

cable length: 1,5 m

enclosed

Justin White with plug-in power supply

special notes

Justine White is not a toy for children! Keep plastic bags and small components away from children to avoid risks of suffocation or swallowing!

Do not look directly into the light source!
(risk of glare or eye damage)

starting up

Place the spheres on the enclosed rubber rings and to adjust them as desired. This prevents the spheres to roll away and ensures the orientation.

Plug the power supply in a nearby socket. At the junction box is the on/off-switch.

effect tips

Adjust the spheres so that you get an extensive white light on an illuminated surface (for example a wall or ceiling).

At the edges it could well be more colored. Place a object between spheres and surface and let yourself be surprised by the colored shadows.

Just experiment!
